ELKS TO OPEN SEASON

LOCAL LODGE PLANS TO HAVE A BUSY, USEFUL AND PLEASANT TIME THROUGH WINTER

After the strenuous summer doings of the Elks' lodge of Glendale, it is hardly to be wondered at that the brethren have been taking it easy for a time. The winter season, however, is now approaching, and there is arising a demand for activity in a social way on the part of the Elks and their friends.

"There will soon be considerable activity in the lodge, to continue throughout the season now open," said Mr. R. D. Clements, secretary of the Elks lodge, to a representative of the Glendale Evening News. "Just at present the lodge is somewhat quiet after all its summer energies. We had a very active time this summer and are glad of a rest during which we are able to turn our attention to other features of the lodge.

"Naturally our lodge will be busy with all manner of social and charitable work this winter. We have our monthly dance, which is under proper chaperonage and supervision, and is greatly enjoyed by all good Elks and their friends. This innocent amusement is a means of bringing together the many friends of the lodge and affording them a means of getting acquainted in a quiet and profitable social manner. It keeps our people in Glendale and enables and encourages them to find their amusement within the precincts of their own city.

"The first event of the season will be the celebration of the third anniversary of Elks lodge, No. 1289. We expect to prepare a great treat for our members and friends on that happy occasion. There will be much to tell of the progress of the lodge during the past year; of the remarkable manner in which it has grown and of the influence for good it has exerted on the city. It may be expected that there will be a very large attendance on that occasion, both of members and their friends and of brethren from other lodges. Lodge No. 1289 has a large circle of warm friends in the neighboring cities. They are always made welcome here, and they know it.

"That will be another demonstration of the need for a new clubhouse.

"That clubhouse subject is perennial and has been discussed until it is threadbare; still it is gradually coming nearer and nearer to realization. The lodge, as you know, has four fine lots on Colorado boulevard, just one lot from the corner of Brand. It is an ideal site for building. The lots have a total frontage of 200 feet and are 150 feet deep. Nothing could be better suited for building a clubhouse. Last summer, when the crowds of visiting Elks thronged the present quarters, it was felt that some larger place must be found soon.

"At every meeting the need of new quarters becomes apparent. Thus we hope to have the matter taken up fully before long and possibly a start made in the direction of building.

"Besides the monthly gatherings, we will celebrate our memorial day for the dead of the past year on the first Sunday in December. This is one of our great celebrations, and as it is open to the public it will enable many of our friends in the city to realize the tender feeling that unites all the brethren. I feel sure that we will have a busy, useful and pleasant season."

DEATH OF ALBERT CHADWICK

Mr. Chadwick had not been enjoying his usual good health for several weeks, which caused much solicitude in his family circle as well as among his numerous friends and acquaintances. Albert Chadwick was born March 22, 1839, near Pataskala, O., and was 76 years of age at his passing away. He was a member of Co. D, Twenty-second Ohio Volunteers and served for three years during the Civil war, being mustered out as sergeant of his company.

Mr. Chadwick was a pioneer of Kansas, and only removed to the Pacific coast eight years ago. He and his family came to Tropico two years ago. On Oct. 7, 1876, he and Miss Mary Thompson were united in marriage, and to them four daughters were born: Edna, wife of G. E. Martin, who resides on San Fernando boulevard; Queen, wife of Robert Danner, residing on Gardena avenue, and Miss Florence Chadwick, who resides with her parents at the family home on Glendale avenue. The fourth daughter passed away in infancy.

Funeral services will be held in G. A. R. hall Saturday afternoon, Oct. 2, and will be conducted by N. P. Banks post, No. 170, of which Mr. Chadwick was a member. Interment at Forest Lawn cemetery will be conducted by the Masonic lodge. The Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. are funeral directors.

SCHOOLS FOR INFANTS

GLENDALE KINDERGARTENS ACCOMPLISHING GREAT WORK IN THE CITY

In response to an urgent wish for public school kindergartens presented by interested parents and friends of little children from 4½ to 6 years of age, two public school kindergartens were opened last January, one in the Colorado boulevard open-air bungalow and the second in the Columbus avenue school.

Miss Carrie O. Ormsby, a graduate of Perry Kindergarten Normal school, Boston, Mass., who has had nine years' experience in public school kindergarten teaching, eight of which have been in California, was director in the Colorado boulevard kindergarten. The interest manifested was good, the average daily attendance of pupils being nearly 30. The same delightful open-air bungalow is used this year for the little folks who are taught by Miss Ormsby. This year 27 pupils are enrolled. A babies' visiting day last week called out ten mothers and grandmothers, as well as four smaller brothers and sisters of the pupils.

Miss Ina Johnson, a graduate of Indianapolis Teachers' college, Indiana, who has had four years' experience in teaching kindergarten in the Indiana Soldiers and Sailors' home, located in Knightstown, Ind., was director in the Columbus avenue kindergarten. This kindergarten showed an average daily attendance of considerably over 30, thus manifesting to the citizens of Glendale what the vital personal touch of a live teacher like Miss Johnson means. The same pleasant conditions exist here this year as last. Miss Johnson has returned to her work as director. Twenty-six pupils are now enrolled.

The long distance for the little folks to walk from the Broadway district to the Colorado boulevard kindergarten seemed to make it wise to open another kindergarten in Broadway school this year. This was done Sept. 13, 1915, and Miss Lucile Nay, a graduate of Chicago Kindergarten college, and a student of Frances Shimer's school, located in Mt. Caroll, Ill., is now directing the little people's play. Twenty-six pupils are now enrolled in this kindergarten.

Kindergarten aims to help the little child understand his immediate environment through many helps given him in the kindergarten, such as gifts, games, stories, songs, occupations and nature study. Through the awakening of a keen interest in the world about him, the little child is thus being fitted to take his place in society as a useful, reliable citizen.

Visitors will be welcome in the Glendale kindergartens whenever they may find it possible to visit one of them in actual operation. "Come, let us live with our children."

THIEVES AT WORK

How absolute is the need for seeing that houses are properly protected at all times is noticeable in the numbers of reports received at police headquarters of entrances attempted both by day and night, from various quarters. Occasionally one of these attempts is successful. Complaints are especially being received of late from the more sequestered parts of the city. John J. Conners, living at the Waverly ranch, Broadway and San Fernando road, reported that his house was entered this week by means of a pass-key and a number of articles stolen. The thief apparently wanted to make quick work of his theft, for after a cursory examination of the house, in the course of which he picked up a few inconsiderable trifles, he finally came upon a suitcase packed ready for traveling, and thus acquired a complete outfit of clothes from socks to collars. He then annexed a hat and went forth equipped for further arduous struggles of a like nature.

LIVESTOCK SHOW

What is said to be the greatest livestock and horse show in the history of the United States opened at San Francisco today at the Panama-Pacific exposition, and will continue until December 3. One hundred and ninety thousand dollars is offered in cash prizes for livestock and $250,557 in prizes for horses.

The first competitive show will be that for horses, mules and asses, which opened today and will last until Oct. 15. The competition for beef and dairy cattle will follow the horse show, and will last from Oct. 18 to Nov. 1.

Mrs. Calvin Whiting, 1106 West Broadway, has made application for membership in the Tuesday Afternoon club.

TALK ON WAR

LA CANADA ASSOCIATION HEARS MARK KEPPEL SPEAK ON CONDITIONS IN EUROPE

When the Association of La Canada met in regular session Saturday, Sept. 25, a large number of the members were present. There was a marked interest displayed in the subject announced for the evening—a talk on "The War in Europe," by Mark Keppel, superintendent of Los Ageles schools.

The Rev. Dr. Brooks, chairman of the association, presided. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. There being no business of pressing importance to transact, it was agreed that Mr. Keppel should begin his address at once. Mr. Keppel therefore began to talk on present conditions in Europe. He deprecated the awful slaughter that is going on in the countries across the Atlantic and argued that with more education there would have been less chance of involving the people in this devastating war.

Throughout his talk Mr. Keppel kept his audience in excellent humor by his witty remarks and the humorous cast he gave to the whole address. At the close of his address he made a strong appeal in favor of the best education that can be given to children, and pleaded for thoroughness and breadth in knowledge. A cordial vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Keppel for his illuminating address.

As the matter of the road bonds has been widely discussed in La Canada, a member of the association asked Mr. Keppel to explain about them. Mr. Keppel stated that it would not be necessary to raise all the money of the bond issue at once, but that the issue could be made in part from time to time as needed, saving interest in this way.

RIDE INTO BARBED WIRE

Somewhat of a curious accident took place Wednesday morning as the industrious band that is engaged in cutting down the weeds in the vacant lots of Glendale was busily occupied in that arduous undertaking. Mr. J. H. Redman, 450 West Broadway, who is keeping the records of the lot cleaning for the purpose of having data for the assessments to be made on such lots as are handled by the city, ran into a barbed wire fence and was somewhat seriously injured. Mr. Redman was riding his bicycle when the accident occurred. He came to a lot where the barbed wire fence was so naturally concealed by the weeds that he rode into it before he was aware of its existence. Thrown from his wheel into the wire, Mr. Redman suffered a severe cut on the neck. Dr. Bryant, who was called, dressed the wound and informed Mr. Redman that the wound had just missed running into the jugular vein.

DR. CHAS. E. HAY HERE

On the 4th of last June the Lutheran people and friends of Glendale and vicinity enjoyed the presence of Miss Brewer, late a missionary of India, and on Sept. 2 the encouraging message of Dr. L. B. Wolf, the general secretary of the foreign missionary board of the Lutheran church in America, both of which were privileges not often extended to Lutherans on the Pacific coast. The end is not yet, for tomorrow night, Oct. 1, at the Lutheran parsonage, 340 South Central avenue, a further great privilege that all who are interested and all who ought to be interested will have, when the distinguished Dr. C. E. Hay of Baltimore, secretary of the Deaconess mother house, will be present and speak. Let many avail themselves of this opportunity. All are welcom.

HER FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Marguerite Chappell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Chappell, 1437 Myrtle street, celebrated her fifth birthday Wednesday. Marguerite was assisted in her celebration by a bevy of youthful friends, who congratulated her on having attained her fifth year. The color scheme of the room was red. From the chandelier hung red festoons to the places at table, where red candles illuminated each guest. The favors were red; the birthday cake had five red candles. Ice cream and cake were served and the guests amused themselves with games on the lawn. Those present were:

CONCERTED COMMUNITY ACTION

"Out of the east comes light," said the Romans. The proverb holds true to the present hour. The West is not too proud to learn from the East, especially in things municipal. There have been days in which the West has looked down upon the East and pointed the finger of scorn at such cities as New York and Philadelphia for municipal corruption and misrule. It is no longer possible to look upon the great cities of the Atlantic coast in such a light. There has been a mending of the ways of municipalities. There has been agitation, and constant agitation, on the subject of municipal reform, and, lo and behold, it has been accomplished!

New York City is now under the control of a commission form of government that is doing effective work and is rapidly reducing the enormous municipal liabilities of that long misgoverned city. Philadelphia is mending its ways, and all over the East can be found cities that need no longer fear comparison with the much-lauded city governments of Berlin and the leading cities of Scotland and England.

Harrisburg, the capital of Pennsylvania, is a city that has a thousand civic virtues. It has a suburb that was resolved not to remain behind its parent in the matter of progress. The name of that suburb is Steelton, a beautiful spot that promised to lend its natural features to the art of the landscape gardener. Steelton wanted a public park, and it wanted it at once; so in one day it managed to get it. No Aladdin's palace was ever more quickly constructed and set in order than Steelton's municipal park. Everybody lent a hand.

Appeal was made to the community and on an appointed day school children, business men, lawyers, clergymen, men from the factories and stores came together and began the arduous task of making a public park. A ten-acre tract was selected and its wild and tangled woodland was rapidly reduced to order under the skilled direction of Warren H. Manning, a Boston architect. Mr. Manning had some time previous to this been engaged in drawing up a plan for extending Harrisburg's park system to its suburbs and was consequently acquainted with the details necessary for carrying out such work as was desired.

Mr. Manning immediately suggested that the whole community be enlisted in the work. A large tract was secured. The Municipal league provided the trees and a certain day was set aside as a holiday on which the whole community should enter on the work of laying out the park. Mr. Manning arrived in the city the day before the work was intended to be begun. He went over the tract, marked trees for removal, laid out the lines of the various drives and walks, and had everything in readiness for the array of help that was to present itself the next day for work.

When the people began to arrive next day early, they were divided into gangs for working and were set to clearing away the underbrush for the opening up of walks and trails. The tree branches to be pruned were marked with instructions. Everyone worked with a will and in one day Steelton entered into possession of a fine park, with well-trimmed trees, an excellent spring of water, a flowing stream and natural groves. The city is delighted and the example thus given might well be followed, East and West.

INFLUENCE OF WAR ON MISSIONS

It has been noted by some Christian observers that not longer ago than five years Christian missionaries of all nations met in the capital of Scotland to think out combined methods for carrying Christianity to the various mission fields. That was then called a feast of brotherly love and a great deal was talked about it in newspapers as a sign of the coming of the era when there would be no more war. Today a large number of those brotherly missionaries are common soldiers in the ranks of the various nationalities they represented at the feast of brotherly love.

Hundreds of members of the Student Christian Movement that was to embrace the whole world are fighting in the ranks of British, French and German armies. Of three secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. in Geneva, Switzerland, one is fighting under the German colors, one under French, and one is under arms in the Swiss mobilization.

Under these circumstances it is little wonder that many missionaries of different nationalities are postponing their return to their mission fields. The modern "heathen" is apt to be a rather inquiring individual; simple in mind and direct in deduction. He cannot understand why the nations should preach about the Prince of Peace to him and then kill each other. As a shrewd African "savage" said to one of the British missionaries, according to report, "If you don't intend to eat each other, why do you kill each other?"

It is rather embarrassing to earnest Christians to find the "heathen" asking why, when German, French and British missionaries have found it possible to live for many years past in harmony, each trying to outdo the other only in deeds of kindness, they should now hate each other on account of this distant war.

Native Christians in India, it is reported, are putting puzzling queries to the British missionaries there. "Why," asks one, "do your churches now speak of this war in terms of approval?" He goes on to inquire how those churches will venture to come to the natives preaching the gospel of love after having given so powerful a demonstration of the gospel of hate. He is of the opinion that the day when the native Christian churches of India will ask permission to stand on their own feet and become independent religious bodies, capable of taking the initiative in the preaching of the gospel is now indefinitely set in the future; whereas before the war it was really close at hand.

This native Christian says a great many other things which European missionaries may think are scarce fit for them to hear; but the hearing of them might easily prove salutary to a chastened and humble mind. The conscience of the world is rapidly becoming sensitive on matters such as these. In a great many instances the "heathen" is just as capable of converting the Christian as the Christian is of converting him; and although God can undoubtedly bring His own work to a proper fulfillment, war or no war, when the war is over it is likely to be found a matter of double difficulty to present Christianity to the thinking "heathen."

NO BAND FOR WILSON

The Marine Band of Washington, D. C., Uncle Sam's crack musical organization, began its vacation today and the folks who live down by the Marine barracks will do without the music of reveille for breakfast for a few weeks. The band, which was formerly led by John Philip Sousa, the "march king," was expected to take a vacation ten days ago, but the Grand Army encampment forced a postponement of the date.

EUCALYPTUS GROWERS MEET

California growers of the eucalyptus tree, known as the "wonder tree," were in convention at San Francisco today in the Lumbermen's building, or House of Hoo-Hoo, at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The eucalyptus tree is called the "wonder tree" because it grows ten times as fast as hickory, oak or mahogany, and yields lumber which is harder and better than these native trees.

The convention of the Eucalyptus Hardwood association will hold a joint meeting with the twenty-fourth annual concatenation of the Hoo-Hoos tomorrow.

DENVER MAY NOLLE PROHIBITION

Threatened with a fight over the new prohibition law which goes into effect on Jan. 1, 1916, the Anti-saloon League of Colorado opened a memorable convention here today. Denver, under a home-rule statute, threatens to nolle the state-wide dry law. The call for today's meeting stated that the purpose was the "formulating of a line of action to checkmate any move the liquor forces may make." Legal action is presumed.

AUTO-BALLOON RACE TODAY

Noted and wealthy aeronauts were entered in the second annual auto-balloon race which started at Pittsfield, Mass., today. Among them were Allan R. Hawley, president of the Aero club of America; G. K. Glidden of Boston, J. H. Wade, jr., of Cleveland, Robert Glendenning of Philadelphia, E. B. Weston of Dayton, Herbert O. Brown of Walpole, Mass.; Dr. Jerome Kingsbury of New York, Heber Bishop of Boston, and George Von Utassy of New York. The balloons entered were the North Adams, the Stevens 27, the Boston, the Delight and the Weston.

Leo Stevens, the pathmaker, went away first in the balloon Dancing Doll. Five minutes later the balloons and automobiles in the contest were sent away. Honors of the race will be for the balloon and automobile which first reach the spot where the Dancing Doll may land.

SOLDIERS LEARN TO BE COOKS

Over 200 domestic economy instructors, under the auspices of the London County Council, are today enrolled for the task of teaching 3000 British soldiers the art of cooking.

Bread-baking, the concoction of Irish stews and the correct way to boil potatoes are the chief features of the campaign to make army cooking better. Scores of cooking schools for the soldiers have been established in many parts of London.

SOCCER ENTRIES CLOSE

The entries for this year's national soccer championship competition will be closed at midnight tonight. Drawing for rounds will be held here Oct. 2, according to officials of the United States Football association.

MANUFACTURERS' DAY

Manufacturers, jobbers and salesmen today had their day at the International Soil Products exposition being held at Denver, Colo. There are many valuable exhibits at the exposition in the line of manufactured articles produced from soil products, and many used in field and farm house.

WAR ODDITIES

A happy diversion of the trenches, says a returned soldier, is a mouthorgan concert transmitted by field telephones through an area of about 15 miles.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

The French war office reported successes on the left wing of the western front. The Garman office said the allies had been repulsed.

The Belgian office reported that they were successfully repulsing the Germans before Antwerp.

A new battle line which extended from Mariampol to Ossowitz, in Russian Poland, has been formed by the Russians, and terrific fighting was reported from the entire front. Rome reported that Roumanian railroads were congested with German troops being rushed to check this Russian advance.

A German squadron was reported by Petrograd to have bombarded the port of Windau.

The German war office posted its thirty-eighth casualty list, containing the names of 8000 officers and men killed, wounded and missing.

The earliest slight break in home ties— the morning when the boy or the girl first trudges off to school! From that day the changes are rapid. Every year you note them. And, almost before you realize it, there comes the severer sundering of those ties, when John or Mary with a cheery "Will be home for Christmas, sure," waves a stout farewell. Both of you are choking back sentiment. And afterward—how pictures, showing all the rapid transitions, do help.

UNITED STATES ATLANTIC FLEET TESTS OUT PLANS OF WASHINGTON WAR COLLEGE

While naval forces of Europe are in death grips, the United States navy today was playing at war. The gray fleet of Admiral Fletcher, comprising over 80 vessels, was stripped for action—but against only an imaginary foe. Actual war conditions prevailed among the thousands of bluejackets and marines, but their sham battle was in marked contrast to the real conflict abroad.

For the next few days the semi-annual "war game" will occupy the entire Atlantic fleet. The battleground this fall is off the southern Atlantic coast. Last spring the war game was held off the northern coast. Hampton roads is the present base of operations. The "fighting" will occur at sea, however.

The fleet is divided into two divisions—the red and the blue fleets. The actual strategic maneuvers to be worked out are being kept a profound secret. None but the highest officers of the fleet are advised. The two fleets are practically sailing to sea under sealed orders.

According to the best information today, the red and blue fleets engage in a struggle for the defense of Charleston, S. C., navy yard, the Portsmouth navy yard and test the defenses of Fortress Monroe, which guards the entrance to the nation's capital and the Chesapeake.

Conditions on the fleet today were those of real war. Grim, earnest and determined, as if a real battle, the opening maneuvers of the big "game" wrought the bluejackets to a high pitch of excitement. Rails and superstructure of battleships, cruisers and torpedo boats have been hauled down. The ships are stripped to battle condition.

The present war game is of peculiar importance and interest among naval officials. Lessons of the European war are to be tested. Submarines, battle cruisers, scout ships and mine layers are to take an important and larger part in the maneuvers. Some of the battleships have been "designated" as Leviathan battle cruisers. Fuel and tender vessels have been designated as submarine craft.

Strategem of the war game was planned at the Washington War college. Several problems tested at the college this year are to be tried out under actual fighting conditions. The ability of submarines, without other support, to successfully defend harbor entrances similar to that of the Hampton roads will be tested.

Naval hydroplanes will also take part in the war game as scouts. Rough weather practice with the aircraft is hoped for, to test their ability to return to their stations in heavy seas. Signal practice and torpedo tube drills will also be given.

Upon the war game depends to a great extent the policy of naval defense to be adopted by the coming congress. The success of the submarines will be a factor in determining how extensive the submarine building program will be.

SUNLAND AND LITTLELANDS

Mr. George Adam of Pine street was taken suddenly ill Sunday. Although better on Monday, he was unable to return to his work in Los Angeles till some time later in the week.

Mrs. Westell of Stephens way spent several days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Philpot of Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. Philpot were former residents of Littlelands.

The Monte Vista band will hold its practice on Friday nights at the schoolhouse hereafter until further notice.

There was a dance at the clubhouse last Saturday night, given by the Monte Vista band. These dances are given monthly by the band and are usually well patronized by the young people of the valley.

The Littlelanders meat shop will open Friday, when the various fresh meats will be on sale.

Mrs. Brydon of Los Angeles was the guest over Sunday of her brother, Mr. Westell of Stephens way.

The Episcopal service was held last Sunday morning at the home of Mrs. Fortiner of San Ysidro road. This service is held once a month and is onducted by Rev. R. Renison of Glendale.

At the town meeting last Friday night George I. Maxwell of Cedar street presented some literature consisting of labels and circulars, reports from the government, etc., pertaining to the canning industry. Also the cost of a canning outfit. Those interested were urged to come to some conclusion in the matter, so that a beginning might be made. Mr. Maxwell then presented a paper on bee culture. A number of people in this vicinity are interested in this fascinating industry, and it is hoped that by spring many hives will be in evidence in the colony.

Mr. George H. Maxwell of the Reclamation society then gave his lecture, which was along the same lines of those previously given. A harvest festival and picnic supper for the whole valley is being agitated, to be held some time in November. It was also stated that John Stephen McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, is contemplating writing a new play, using "The Harvest Home" as the subject. Upon consideration it was found very impracticable to longer hold the town meeting on the same evening of the Maxwell lectures; therefore, on motion of Dr. Kearney, it was decided to change the time from Friday evening to Tuesday evening, as heretofore. Those interested please note the change, which goes into effect at once. The hour is 7:30 o'clock.

As announced, the town meeting was held Tuesday evening of this week. The moderator read a notice of the musicale to be given one week from next Saturday by Miss Louise Methfessel of the Wilshire Presbyterian church, assisted by Mrs. Menner Dunn of Littlelands. Tickets will be on sale at Ashly's store and by Miss Brissinden, the librarian.

Various changes have been made in the runs of the stage line. Several trips a day will be made to La Crescenta in addition to the through land and Hansen Heights. Mr. Shumway will have charge of the auto running to La Crescenta and Mr. Parmenter will run as usual to the city. The new schedule goes into effect on Friday morning.

The selection of the executive committee of the general affairs of the colony was announced as follows: W. H. Wieman, P. J. Blake and C. H. Clark.

Beginning Oct. 1, Mr. J. G. Rockey will begin his duties as the custodian of the clubhouse and grounds. Mr. Rockey is very painstaking and careful and it is expected that in a short time there will be a great change in the appearance of the grounds which are greatly in need of attention. Mr. C. H. Clark made a speech to the effect that he hoped the executive committee would have the co-operation of everyone in the colony in the effort to bring about a change in the streets with reference to the growth of weeds and debris scattered in various places. It is to be hoped that each will interest himself as a committee of one to do everything possible to aid in this work.

In connection with the Maxwell lecture on Friday night, it is greatly desired to establish a conference in which everyone will be free to express himself. This is to be called the round table, the name being suggested at a previous meeting by Mrs. Kearney.

Mrs. Earl Mank of Willow Brook was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barkley, last Sunday, returning to her home in the evening.

Bertha and Henry Fehr are two new scholars enrolled in the school this week.

Moved by Kline, seconded by Craig, that the board adjourn.

Burbank Steadily Growing

Burbank is sure riding the wheel of progress. During the present year of 1915 building permits have been greater than any other nine months in the history of the town. The following report for the month of September, by E. M. Young, the building inspector, speaks for itself:

Jas. J. Jeffries, barn, $1000; H. H. Corbett, residence at 627 Magnolia street, $800; C. W. Siveter, residence on Biggar tract, $1500; M. Groshong, addition to residence on Olive street, $100; Joseph Couton, residence on Aliso street, $1000; Richard Hill, a residence on Olive avenue, $1000; E. G. Johnson, residence on Cypress street, $1200; W. F. Craig, barn on Palm avenue, $200; Miss H. Ericson, residence on San Fernando road, $200.

John L. Cookston of Huntington Beach trasacted business in Burbank Monday.

C. Claggett starts two large Studebaker autobuses in the new Burbank stage line, which will start operating on schedule on Monday, Oct. 4.

Mrs. C. H. Richie of this city, president of the first district of the California Congress of Mothers, gives a talk before the initial meeting of the Tropico Parent-Teachers' association this (Friday) afternoon.

Miss Ruth Fairburn of 355 Angeleno street entertained Saturday afternoon of last week at a linen shower in honor of Miss Mary Ostergard, a charming bride-to-be.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church held another all-day meeting at the home of the pastor, Rev. Davenport, Thursday of this week. The members of the aid society are very busy getting ready for a large bazar, which they will hold some time in the latter part of October.

Clyde Faneau was pleasantly surprised by a number of his friends on Monday evening of this week.

H. Arnold and mother, who recently moved to Burbank from Watsonville, Cal., are now nicely settled at their home on Sixth street. For many years Mr. and Mrs. Arnold were residents of Tulare county.

The young people of the Christian church gave a surprise party in honor of Mrs. Pomeroy, the pianist for the choir, on Monday evening in appreciation of her work. About 25 guests spent a most pleasant evening with games and music. Mrs. Pomeroy was presented with a beautiful cut-glass bowl by her admirers. Near the close of the party dainty refreshments were served.

Verily surprise parties were in the air the past week. A number of the friends of Miss Hazel Rogers of Verdugo street made merry the occasion of her eighteenth birthday. Those present were: Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. Lynn, Dorothy Little, Alpha Thedacker, Laura Randall, Blanche Shelton, Ruth Davenport, Dorothy Davenport, Clyde Taneau, Julius and Richard Davenport and George Ross.

The new Walker building on San Fernando boulevard has been completed. It is one of Burbank's finest building blocks and has three rooms, all of which have been rented. LA CANADA

The La Canada Parent Teacher Association will hold its next meeting at the La Canada schoolhouse, Friday, October 8, at 2:30 o'clock. This is the first meeting of the year and a large attendance is expected. First aid to the injured and the general welfare of the school will be discussed. New and important business is to be brought up which every one will no doubt wish to have a vote on. Mrs. Jay Schelllin is to be the hostess ess at this meeting and if every parent makes it a point to come out she and the other members of the association will make you feel welcome.

The La Canada Christian Endeavors will hold their regular weekly meeting Sunday evening at the La Canada church at 6:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all the young people in the valley. The Christian Endeavors have done a good work during the past year and with the co-operation of more of the La Canada young people their society can be stronger and more widely felt than heretofore.

Dr Scott, pastor of the La Canada Congregational church, has returned from his four weeks' vacation. Two weeks of his vacation were spent at Camp Oak Wilde in the Arroyo Seco with Dr. Scott's daughter, Mrs. Maynard of Pasadena. The remaining time Dr. Scott spent in Portland, Ore., with relatives. He made the trip both ways by water and without a touch of seasickness. The regular church services will open Sunday, October 3. It is hoped that a large crowd will welcome the pastor home.

Mr Waldemar Weaver, who was driving home from school Tuesday evening in his cyclecar, was unfortunate enough to meet with two provoking accidents. Below Montrose a few blocks Waldemar suddenly noticed something wrong with his machine and on short inspection found the clutch broken At that time Miss Katherine Hegeman and Robert Howe came along in Mr. Howe's stripped Ford and with a patched up rope they pulled the cyclecar up the Montrose hill. At the top of the hill on stopping quickly Waldemar's front wheel ran into the back wheel of the leading machine and smashed in the wheel of the smaller car. Mr. Somes was kind enough to offer his services and he piled the battered car on the back of his machine and took it and the young owner home.

Mrs. Guidinger of Burr Avenue entertained several of her relatives and friends from Santa Monica on Sunday. After a lovely chicken dinner the guests enjoyed a pleasant afternoon of musc and departed in the early evening.

Mr. J. P. Johnson, who has been visiting his parents in Tennessee, was expected home this week, but on account of an attack of malaria he will be delayed for a few weeks. Mr. Johnson's father, who has undergone a serious operation during the past few weeks, is greatly improved and will soon be himself again, strong and able.

Miss Katherine Hegeman of Texas street and Miss Reba Van Arsdale of Pasadena spent a beautiful day last Saturday among the mountains. They started early and made the round trip to Switzer's Camp, which is about fourteen miles from La Canada. The bracing fog and the fresh fragrance of the air were doubtless inspiring to these two lovers of nature.

Mr. Henry Baker of Burr avenue has been looking for a house that he might rent for his brother, who is coming here from the middle west for his poor health. Anyone who is Ohio who have been visiting the San mentioned.

Last Sunday while on their way to visit friends in Monrovia Mr. and Mrs. Max Green and Mrs. B D Jackson were near victims of a severe accident. A truckload of baseball players were passing Mr. Green's machine on the road when one of them, who was evidently intoxicated threw a beer bottle at the front of Mr. Green's machine. The bottle landed with great force at the base of the windshield, breaking it into a million pieces. Glass flew in against the occupants of the machine who fortunately escaped serious injury. Having on their hats and gloves was all that shielded those in the machine from being cut severely. In their confusion and astonishment they were unable to get the number of the truck. A visit to friends was entirely forgotten. Anxious to find out who the men were on the truck Mr. Green chased them for eight or ten miles, but evidently aware of their reckless action, the baseball men were nowhere to be found.
